

Ten Arlingtonians Receive Degrees At BU Summer Session

Friends and relatives of the largest summer graduating class in Boston University 111-year history filled Symphony Hall Saturday afternoon to see 947 students receive degrees from Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, president of the university, who urged them to "Intelligent Inquisitiveness" especially in the areas of "Education, Patriotism and Morality."

In making his first public address on "Life's Most Arresting Question," since his recent illness, President Marsh told the graduates who entered the hall in academic procession, led by the President, University trustees and faculty, that:

"The Administration, or law, or war that cannot stand the probing of 'Why' is no: a good administration, or law, or war. For instance, why are we so unprepared for war at the present time when fifty billion dollars of the taxpayers' money has allegedly been spent for defense within four years, and even then on top of the mightiest war machine this world has ever seen? Or why should Uncle Sam be the Policeman rather than peacemaker of the world?"

Dean Atlee L. Percy, presented the candidates for degrees as they mounted the flower-bedecked platform decorated in the University's colors, scarlet and white.

The 947 students from seven of the University's 15 schools and colleges brought the 1950 graduation total to 4310, the largest in University history.

Local residents who received degrees were:

Mary Anne Blessington, B. S. in Ed., 17 Edgchill rd., Arlington, received the degree, Master of Education at the school of education;

Joseph Anthony Coppola, Jr., A. B., 245 Broadway, Arlington, received the degree Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, with a major in Insurance at the college of business administration.

Robbins Library Arlington, Mass. To Resurface The Parkway

Resurfacing of the Alewife Brook Parkway from the Concord Turnpike Circle across Mass. Avenue and Broadway to the junction of the junction of the Alewife Brook and Mystic Valley Parkway will be let out to contract shortly, according to information received by Representative Henry Keenan from the Engineering Staff of the M.D.C. Funds were allocated in the last budget passed by the legislature.

A new traffic circle at the junction of Powder House boulevard Alewife Brook Parkway and the Mystic Valley Parkway will be installed at the same time.

The public works department also will resurface Concord Turnpike from Alewife Brook Parkway Circle to the Pleasant street underpass.

Improvements will greatly enhance the park system in the vicinity of Arlington, and are in line with Mr. Keenan's proposal to route traffic around the town rather than through it.

Runaway Truck Injures Two

Two Arlington people were injured in Cambridge, Thursday, when a five ton runaway truck roared down Broadway, Cambridge, struck a car, knocked over a gasoline pump, started a fire and then crashed into a public garage causing extensive damage.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Scheider, 35 Roland Road, Arlington, were driving in their car along Broadway when the truck, driven by Charles Vidito of Bedford, hit them, shaking them up.

Vidito claimed the brakes on his truck became faulty as he started down the hill. He swung the truck out of the traffic lane, hitting the Schneider car as he did.

The truck ran up over the curb and knocked down a gas pump in front of the Ellyer Garage at 418 Broadway, causing an explosion that sent flaming gasoline 20 feet into the air.

Slowed down only slightly, the truck then roared directly through the garage's main entrance, and smashed into a wood and glass partition separating the garage proper from the office.

The truck then bounced out of the garage, backwards, and continued on 20 feet, where it rammed a tow truck and stopped.

Two mechanics, Woodrow L. Curtis of Cambridge and George Enos of Arlington, grabbed extinguishers and fought the gasoline flames until firemen arrived and put the fire out.

Henry M. Altman of Merrill st., Cambridge, garage manager, estimated damage to his establishment alone at $3000.

Appoint New Policemen

The office of the Board of Selectmen has announced the appointment of two men to the Arlington Police force.

Officer Donald Seabury, military substitute for Al Zwick, has been made a permanent member of the force.

Suggest Towns Tie Up Terminal Land With United Court Action

THIS IS THE LAND

THIS IS THE PLAN

Keenan States Bill Killed In Senate By Rules Committee

A recommendation that the board of Selectmen in Arlington, working with the heads of the Cambridge city government, place the matter of MTA terminal land near the bowling alleys on the Concord turnpike, before the courts, to prevent sale to private parties, was issued today by Representative Henry E. Keenan.

Reporting that legislation for transfer of M D C land to the MTA for a terminal had been allowed to die in the Senate Rules Committee, Mr. Keenan asked that the local board work with other towns to keep this land for use by the MTA when a terminal is passed.

Mr. Keenan alleged that Senator Harris Richardson of Winchester, chairman of the Rules Committee, could have referred the matter to the full Senate body.

The land was transferred to the M D C by the city and towns of Arlington, Belmont, Cambridge, and Somerville in the early 1900s.

After some research, Mr. Keenan filed a bill calling for immediate transfer of the land for terminal purposes. The bill received a favorable report from the committee on Metropolitan Affairs, and was referred to the Ways and Means committee. While the bill was resting in that committee, the M D C transferred 11 acres of the land to a group of private citizens over the objections of the Board of Selectmen of Arlington, the Cambridge City Council, and state representatives from Arlington, Belmont, Cambridge and Somerville.

Mr. Keenan filed a new bill calling for transfer of the remaining property at once to prevent further sale of the land. The House Ways and Means committee recommended further study with no protective clause. A second bill was filed by Mr. Keenan and sent to the Senate. The same action resulted.

Mr. Keenan then recommended a special commission to study the matter, with a restricting sale clause, which was to be reported back to the legislature next year. This was allowed to die in the Senate Rules Committee.

Mr. Keenan has received a letter from the Board of Selectmen of Arlington, stating that they have been in touch with executives in Belmont and Lexington, who will make a thorough study of Mr. Keenan's recommendations.

Beacon Jewelry Opens New Store

Several hundred residents of Arlington and vicinity have visited the new Beacon Jewelry Company store since it's successful opening at it's new location at 455 Massachusetts avenue last Friday.

Morris Saitz, proprietor, greeted his customers with orchids, flown in from Hawaii, for the first 300 ladies, and also offered amazing bargains in watches and other jewelry for the occasion.

Mr. Saitz has been in the jewelry business in Arlington since 1928, when he opened with limited facilities and a small stock.

Now the new store, with it's Corran structural gray glass front, stratosphere blue and white interior, and Cerulean asphalt tile floor is completely modern. It is air-cooled during the summer.

Courteous service, good selection, and high quality are the reasons for the success of Arlington's oldest jewelry store, according to Mr. Saitz.

Arlington Trio To Serve As BU Class Officers

The officers were elected in student conducted elections held at the university during the Spring semester.

Write To The Boys

If you have a friend who is stationed with the Army, Navy, or the Marine Corps in the Pacific, he needs letters now more than ever before. He is out in the thick of things there, never knowing when he may be called into battle for the defense of our country. He stands ready and willing to give his all in the defense of the principles his country stands for.

Thousands of miles separate these boys from their loved ones at home and they'd surely welcome letters and a few parcels once in a while. So there is little enough that we safe at home can do in writing them cheerful letters once in a while and send along a box of candy or a bundle of cookies. They will be more than welcome.

Remember that it is the boys out there who stand between us and the enemy. They are our main line of defense. No matter what kind of handicaps we may have to put up with in our daily living here, the boys out there have it ten times as worse. So we should write to them and do so often. They will get a great lift in their morale in receiving letters from the folks back home.

Write them a line today.

Are You Voting On Primary Day?

Why bother about the primary?

Why vote at all?

Well, the primary, as you know, is the elimination vote by which you choose the candidates who will finally appear on the November ballot.

It also means you eliminate those you just can't see holding public office.

The importance of the primary can't be over emphasized. It gives you, the voter, the chance to say who will appear on the ballot.

If you're a Democrat, you have a voice in helping to choose what you think is the strongest candidate to defeat the opposing Republican candidate.

The same thing holds true for the Republicans.

To ensure having the candidate you want on the November ballot, you must vote for him at the September primary.

Labor Day Only A Week Away

With Labor Day only a little more than a week away, folk in Arlington this week were returning from vacations as the vacation season started to draw to a close.

As Labor Day marks the official end of the summer season, hundreds of Arlingtonians were planning for the Labor Day weekend trip as the final "fling" of the present summer season.

PRIMARY DAY IS SEPTEMBER 19th

Leaders of both the Republican and Democratic parties in this city are urging residents to register in order that they may be qualified to vote in the coming election. Unless they are registered, they will not be allowed to vote.

Interest is running high in the coming fall election.

Interest is very high in this locality in the sheriff of Middlesex county battle.

Political observers predict that the sheriff race will be very close and the leading contenders all have been making a vigorous bid for the job. They have been filling speaking engagements in this city and elsewhere.

One of the biggest turnouts in years is expected at the polls for the primary of Sept. 19, which, as usual, falls on a Tuesday.

HOW NEW LAW AFFECTS VETS

The law affects veterans in the following manner:

1—A veteran who has completed or discontinued a GI Bill course and who now wants another course in either the same or any other general field, may take the new course simply by applying for it—so long as he meets other eligibility requirements and so long as he has not changed general fields before.

In the past, VA required all veterans changing to different general fields to submit justification showing their need for the change. If the justification was not adequate, they could request advisement and guidance, so that VA could make a final determination.

2—A veteran who already changed from one major field to another, and wishes to change again, may be required to take advisement and guidance under the new law. VA, then, decides whether the veteran has need and aptitude for the new course. But if VA does not notify him of its decision within 45 days after he applied for the change, the new course automatically is approved.

3—Current VA restrictions on a vocational and recreational training, formerly authorized by appropriations acts which ran for one year each, have been given permanency by being incorporated in the new law—with some modifications.

The law lists certain courses "presumed to be a vocational or recreational in character." A veteran wanting to take a course on the list must submit justification that the course would serve a bona fide use in his present or contemplated business or occupation.

If he applies for a course not on the list—but which VA has found to be a vocational or recreational—he may submit complete justification or he may, under the law, submit an affidavit, supported by corroborating affidavits by two competent disinterested persons, stating that the training would be useful to him in connection with earning a living.

4—Machinery for GI Bill flight training applications, set up in last year's appropriations act, has been made a part of the new law. The machinery consists of the affidavit method of application.

Schools training veterans under the GI Bill are affected by the new law in the following ways:

1—The law prescribes minimum standards that certain profit schools must meet before they can accept GI Bill students. Standards are to be enforced by state approving agencies, and the law authorizes federal grants to these agencies so that they can do an effective job.

The standards, designed to insure veterans of a high calibre of training, consist of the following seven yardsticks:

(a) The school's course must be consistent in quality, content and length with similar courses given by public schools or other private schools with recognized high standards;

(b) The school must have enough space, equipment, instructional material and instructor personnel for good training;

(c) Instructors must have adequate qualifications, in terms of both education and experience;

(d) The school must have "clearly stated and enforced" standards of attendance, progress and conduct, and must keep adequate records.

(e) The school must give a veteran credit for previous training or experience, and shorten his course accordingly.

(f) The school must provide a copy of its approved curriculum both to the VA and to the veteran.

(g) After the veteran completes his course, the school must give him a certificate of satisfactory completion.

The standards apply to any profit school which, during any period, has fewer than 25 students, or one-fourth of the students enrolled (whichever is larger) paying their own tuition.

2—The new law creates procedures for recovering subsistence allowance overpayments made to veterans who drop out of training or who have excessive or unauthorized absences.

If it is proved at a hearing before a VA Committee on Waivers that the overpayment resulted from the school's "willful or negligent failure" to report drop-outs or absences, VA can get the money back by "an offset from amounts otherwise due the school or in other appropriate action."

3—A requirement of last year's appropriation act—that a school must be in operation on its own at least a year before it can accept a GI Bill student—is incorporated in the new law, with some modifications.

Under the measure, the one-year limitation will not apply to (a) any course in a public school or other tax-supported school; (b) any course which has undergone a change but "which does not depart completely from the whole character of instruction previously given"—so long as the school itself was in business for a year or more; (c) any course given by a school more than one year old, which has moved from one point to another in the same general locality.

Finally, the one-year minimum could be waived, at VA's discretion, if a state approving agency certifies that a new school is "essential to meet the requirements of veterans in such State."

4—The Veterans Tuition Appeals Board, formerly appointed by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs, has its name changed to the Veterans Educational Appeals Board, and it now is to be appointed by the President.

The Board may review tuition, fees or other charges established under provisions of the new law, in case a school is dissatisfied with rates decided upon.

Also, any school which has a contract covering any period after August 24, 1949, may request the Board to review tuition, fees or other charges established in the contract. Applications for reviews of this nature must be made within 60 days of enactment of the law.

5—The new measure defines "customary cost of tuition" and "fair and reasonable" tuition rates but makes several changes in the definitions previously contained in the appropriations act of last year.

6—Under the law, VA is to continue to pay a school a "fair and reasonable" tuition rate during periods of contract negotiations, or while a school's appeal is pending. The rate, however, can't

LAY FINAL GUILD PLANS

Checking final plans for the "Odd Change Harvest" of the Catholic Guild for the Blind with Reverend Thomas J. Carroll, Director of the Guild, are Joseph C. White, (left) Chairman of the Executive Committee, and Arthur F. Sullivan, Chairman of the Fund Campaign. The drive will open Labor Day, September 4th and continue through Columbus Day, October 12th.

drop below 75 percent of the school's most recent rate of tuition.

7—The law prohibits a state approving agency from approving a new profit school course, or an addition to the capacity of an existing course, if the occupation for which training is given is crowded in the state. Also, existing training facilities must be adequate for the prohibition to apply.

8—Under the new act, a trade or technical course, consisting primarily of shop practice, will be considered a full-time course when at least 25 hours a week of instruction are required. But after July 1, 1951, the minimum number of hours are to be raised to 30 per week. Courses include those offered on a clock-hour basis below the college level.

On the other hand, below-college-level clock-hour courses consisting mainly of theoretical or classroom instruction may continue to offer full-time training of a minimum of 25 hours a week, indefinitely.

Minimums for clock hour full-time courses, VA explained, have been 25 hours a week all along.

With the exception of the provision on minimum standards, the entire act goes into effect immediately. Minimum standards become effective the first day of the third month following the date of this law.

VETS QUIZ

Q—I owe some money that I haven't been able to repay. The person I borrowed it from wants to garnish my wages. Because I'm an on-the-job trainee under the GI Bill, I claim he can't do it. Am I right?

A—He can garnish the training wages you receive from your employer-trainer, but he can't garnish the subsistence allowance you receive from VA.

Q—I've been in an Army hospital ever since the end of the war and I'm scheduled to get out in 1951. At that time, too, I understand I will receive my discharge from the Army. What will be my deadline for starting GI Bill education or training?

A—Four years from your date of discharge. But you will have to finish training by July 25, 1956.

Q—I am married and attending college under the GI Bill. Recently we had a child. How may I get a copy of his birth record, to submit to VA for increased subsistence allowances?

Ordinarily, copies of birth records may be obtained by writing the Registrar, State Bureau of Vital Statistics, at the capital of the State in which the child was born.

CANDIDATES BUSY AS PRIMARY DAY DRAWS CLOSER

That the political campaign in this section of the state is now in full swing is attested to by the many campaign posters that are springing up everywhere in and about the city.

Candidates are using house and building sides, phone poles and trees to tack their signs urging support on primary day which falls on Sept. 19, a Tuesday.

"Vote for me" cards are being handed out everywhere and a number of house parties are being held by candidates here in the city and neighboring towns.

It looks like the campaigning will become more intensified as the weeks pass by and the primary day draws to hand.

Ask Aid Of Police Chiefs

At a meeting of the Traffic and Safety Committee of the Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Association, held in the office of the Association President, Chief John R. King, of Cambridge, it was voted unanimously to request every Chief of Police in Massachusetts to participate in the Association's program of co-operation with the Registry of Motor Vehicles, the State Police, and the Metropolitan District Police, and to assign every available man to traffic control and enforcement over the long Labor Day week end.

There were 95,835 more motor vehicles registered in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts on August 1 of this year than on the same date in 1949, and 148,624 additional licensed operators. This will mean the heaviest highway traffic ever experienced in our Commonwealth, and there must be no let-down in the co-ordinated activities of the enforcement personnel of the State and communities.

Last Labor Day there were three highway fatalities in the Commonwealth. Let every motorist and pedestrian co-operate this year with the enforcing officials to prevent highway deaths.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Recently the members of Arlington Chapter 40 visited the Bedford Veterans' Administrations Hospital, where they distributed sixty cartons of cigarettes, to the men and women patients.

This activity was carried out through the generous contributions by the local citizens of Arlington during our last Forget Me Not Drive.

Very truly yours,
Disabled American Veterans
Kevin Corbett
Hospital Committee Chairman

Dear Sir,

May we take this opportunity to express our grateful appreciation to the members of the Chamber of Commerce for support of our recent playground parade and jamboree. Over 2,000 youngsters were in attendance at the jamboree at Spy Pond Field and the program was very enthusiastically received by all.

By the generous donation of ice cream for all youngsters participating in the Jamboree and by the cooperation of individual merchants and the members of your Chamber, in providing 138 prizes for the various contests, we were able to stimulate a great deal of enthusiasm and interest in the program. The children spent many long hours in the playgrounds decorating their floats, doll carriages and other wheeled vehicles, designing costumes, and preparing in general for the Jamboree. In return for their work in preparation of this day they were amply rewarded through the generosity of the Chamber of Commerce.

In programs of this kind we are always faced with the problem of raising funds for awards to our playground youngsters. The immediate response by the members of your Chamber to our plea for help this year was most gratifying. Sincerely,
Board of Park Commissioners

"Here's the Pitch"

By "Bump" Hadley

WBZ, WBZ-TV Sportscaster and Former Major League Pitcher

IT'S A GOOD thing for the rest of the National League that the New York Giants got away to a poor start this year, or those Giants would be so far out in front right now, that the race would be over. As it is, the Giants will have to perform a baseball miracle to win the pennant. Right now, the Giants come close to being the best team in the league.

Leo Durocher could do with a little more catching and another first baseman wouldn't exactly be chased away. Wes Westrum is a dependable, work-horse catcher, but not quite a star. Monte Irvin is adequate at first base, but not quite a championship first baseman. He's a far better outfielder.

The rest of New York's infield is pretty classy. Eddie Stanky at second, Al Dark at short and Hank Thompson at third could play on anybody's ball club.

The outfield is as good as any in the league. Whitey Lockman is probably the best outfielder in the league. This Don Mueller has developed into a terrific outfielder, and Bobby Thompson is at least adequate.

The Giant pitching has been sensational after a rocky start. The purchase of Jim Hearn for the waiver price was probably the best buy that Horace Stoneham ever made. Sal Maglie has developed swiftly. It's a question of whether Larry Jansen or Johnny Sain is the best right hander in the league. And, in addition, Durocher has Sheldon "Available" Jones, Dave Koslo, Montie Kennedy, Clint Hartung and Andy Hansen. And he even gets an occasional good game out of Jack Kramer.

It's lucky for the rest of the league that it's too late.

Above is the 1949 Arlington High School squad which tied for the State Class "A" championship and participated in the long-to-be remembered Sugar Bowl contest last December. Many of the above players have reported for Coach Henry Toczylowski's 1950 squad and hopes are high for another great year.

By FRANK MAHONEY

The 1950 Arlington high school football squad turned out: 44 strong Monday morning for the first practice session since the spring.

Coach Henry Toczylowski informed the Press that sixteen of the men are letterman from last year. Ed Burns and Jim Cavalieri, with the par: time assistance of Boston University's George (Brud) Faulkner will make up the coaching staff. Burns and Faulkner will coach the backfield with Cavalieri running the line.

Burns reported that he has three of his four regulars back, Salisbury, Muello and O'Brien. Cosgrove last year's ace quarterback, graduated in June. Bill Keneally, last year's sub quarterback, is expected to take over the signal calling position.

Jim Cavaleiri has thirteen of his 1949 linemen back. Tartarini, Albertini Kelly, Samella, Oppedisano, Hayes, Winters, Daly Maggio, Szymanski, Golden, Whickwire and Theller have all returned to help bolster the line. There are about 10 new men out with many more expected to follow as soon as school opens.

The high school team tied with Lowell high last year for the Co-championship of the Class "A" league and played a December game with Easton high in New Orleans which they dropped, 26-13.

The 1950 squad will in all probability be picked as the team to beat in this year's high school grid competition. It looks like the first string will be made up of many of last year's regulars and second string men with a terrific reserve power on the bench for the emergencies which crop up during the season.

None of the coaches will venture to make any predictions of the possibilities of the squad except to say, "We will have eleven good men out there at the end of September."

Red Sox, Tigers All Even In AYA Playoffs

The Red Sox and Tigers of the Senior AYA baseball league are all tied up with one win each and a tie in the two out of three series for the 1950 championship.

The Red Sox took the first game by a narrow margin 2-1, only to have the battling Tigers come back Thursday night to tie the second game which ended in a near riot over a call on account of darkness.

The third game was played at Spy Pond field Monday night, where the Tigers defeated the Sox, 4-3, in another game which saw an umpire's decision argued, booed and cheered.

In the Thursday night game at Reservoir Field, Martens pitched for the Sox while Mucci went the distance for the Tigers. The score was tied, 3-3, in the last of the sixth when the Sox came to bat. A walk and three hits brought three runs across the plate for the Sox putting them in the lead, 6-3. With two outs the field umpires called the game on account of darkness. This meant that the score reverted back to the end of the previous inning, ending the game in a three to three tie.

The Tigers fans were hilarious while the Sox rooters rushed at the Umps from all sides hurling every baseball epithet in the books. The decision was not changed and the game ended in a tie.

Monday night the Tigers led all the way with Higgins on the mound. In the last half of the sixth with one out Martens, Sox pitcher, belted a single past the third baseman. Chisholm, Tiger's third baseman, recovered the ball and uncorked a wild throw to first sending the ball out into right field, under the fence. Martens streaked for home and scored standing up. However, Coach Powers of the Tigers, claimed he was only entitled to third base on the wild throw and an argument ensued. Meanwhile Chisholm, picked up the ball, stroled over to third base, touched the bag and screamed Martens was out as he had not touched the base.

The third base ump then called Martens out.

Mulcahy, coach of the Sox, stormed after the official with all of the fans calling advice to both coaches.

The umpire in chief was called in and allowed the decision of the third base umpire and Martens was out.

Higgins then struck out the next batter and the Tigers won the third game, 4-3.

The next playoff game will be held on September 9th at 2:00 p. m. at Spy Pond Field.

Five Arlington Men On Boston U. Squad

Five Arlington men will report to Nckerson field in Newton, Wednesday, for the opening practice session of the Boston University football squad.

George Faulkner, Troy, Sitter, Charles Kent, Joseph Baber and William McEaney are past stars of Arlington high school and last year's Boston U. squad will play big roles in what is expected to be the best team Boston University has put on the field in many a year.

Harry Agganis, quarterbacking ace of the team, has been called to active duty with the Marine Corps, according to an announcement by Captain L. A. Morgan, public information officer, of the Marine Reserve.

Agganis will be called on or about October 15th with the third category. This is the untrained Marine reserve unit. Tom Lavery, star end of last year's squad has already left for active duty with the Marine Corps.

Captain Morgan informed the PRESS that Agganis will probably be around until the first of November for he is allowed 15 days, after his notice to report, to clear up civilian affairs.

Buff Donneli, coach of the Terriers, was shocked by the news that he might lose Agganis but said he would probably use Bill Pavlikowski of Tower Hill, Pennsylvania to fill the vacant spot.

The Terriers will play an eight-game schedule, opening, Oct. 7, and concluding Nov. 24, with the College of the Pacific at Sockton, Calif. In between they play St. Bonaventure, University of Miami, Syracuse, Illinois and Mary, New York University and University of Idaho.
